VERY MOMENT MATTERS!

PAINT HOW YOU FEEL!

"I hate painting," says Howard Hodgkin, "Most of the time it's irrelevant. It doesn't mean enough, ever, quite." But at the grand old age of 83 years old, this English artist, Hodgkin, became more prolific than ever. "I realize there isn't much time left...Old age has been freeing: Lots of things that I used to worry about in my work, I don't any more because I know the answers to them. It clarifies things wonderfully." What he wants to achieve with his art has become "more straightforward", he says: "maximum expression".

Hodgkin has said: "I am a representational painter, but not a painter of appearances. I paint representational pictures of emotional situations." In our art lesson last week, our Skylarks discussed this artist and how they could represent an emotion on paper using shape and colour. Can you give these beautiful Yr4 paintings titles that match the emotion the children have painted?

KS1 Mini Olympics 3rd May 2024 !

Incredible resilience!

Huge jumps!

Some very tired competitors!

Perran-ar-Worthal Key Stage 1 took part in the mini-Olympics at Penryn on Friday 3rd May. Mrs Hamilton was incredibly impressed with how each child represented the school. Huge jumps, incredible running, phenomenal attitudes and resilience from every competitor. These photos say it all! Well done to all of you!

Children ran in a 30m sprint, a long-distance running race of 200m, a mini vortex howler throwing competition and they tested their jumping skills in a standing long jump.
