A child can have access to their School Nurse throughout their primary school years. School Nurses can see a child in school or in a clinic. They also offer telephone or virtual contact for health assessments. This includes asking questions about a child’s health, wellbeing and development. School Nurses can then help by developing care plans with parents and their child or referring on to other services.	Falmouth Health Centre 01872 221704 New Referrals: Contact the Early Help Hub on: 01872 322277 earlyhelphub@cornwall.gov.uk

Frequently asked questions and answers

How does your school know if my child needs extra help and what should I do if I think my child may have special educational needs?

All pupils are regularly assessed throughout the year. Data from assessments, in addition to day to day monitoring of progress through marking, provides the information needed to identify those children that may require additional support with their academic learning. Children are also regularly monitored by staff with regards to their mental wellbeing and are trained to look for signs of social, emotional and mental health needs. If you feel your child may have special educational needs, please discuss your concerns with your child's class teacher in the first instance, or the SENCo.

Who is responsible for the progress and success of my child in school?

The Headteacher maintains an overview of the progress of all pupils in the school. Class teachers supported by Teaching Assistants plan for and monitor the progress of their pupils. The SENCo has particular responsibility for those pupils who require additional support. In addition to school staff, parents play a vital role in the development of their children and the school actively encourages a strong home/school link.

How will the curriculum be matched to my child's needs?

Our school uses the 'National Curriculum in England: Primary Curriculum' to plan for all pupils. In all classes, teachers plan differentiated tasks to ensure pupils of all abilities can access the curriculum effectively. Additional support is in place for those pupils who require support within a smaller group or 1-1, and may also provide a personalised curriculum tailored to the needs of a child if required, for example if the child has an Education Health Care Plan (EHCP).

How will school staff support my child?

Support will be tailored to the needs of the class, a group or an individual. This will include practical learning resources as well as adult support.

How will I know how my child is doing and how will you help me to support my child's learning?

Regular meetings are held throughout the year between parents and the class teacher. We have an open door policy where, if you feel you would like to speak to your child's teacher, we will do our best to ensure we accommodate you. Annual reports are sent home at the end of the summer term. If your child has additional needs, termly meetings will be arranged for you to discuss your child's progress towards their Provision Plan targets. Annual reviews are also planned where any outside agencies involved with your child's progress, are invited to attend. Where a child has an EHCP, all staff involved in your child's development, will provide written reports at the annual review meetings.

What support will there be for my child's overall wellbeing?

The school follows a carefully structured behaviour policy and, in addition to PSHE / Jigsaw sessions for the pupils, parents are encouraged to share any concerns they feel the school should be aware of, regarding their child's wellbeing.

How do I know that my child is safe in school?

The school has up to date Health and Safety and Safeguarding policies in place. All staff are regularly trained and informed of any changes to policy or any parental concerns that relate to their child. Risk assessments are completed where appropriate.

What specialist services and expertise are available at or accessed by your school?

Specialist services available to the school are listed above. These are accessed on a needs basis.

What SEND training have the staff at school had or are having?

Both the SENCo and Headteacher hold the National Award for SEN qualification (NASENQ). Staff have received regular in-house training provided by a variety of professionals. This has been delivered as a whole staff approach as well as more specific training for staff who work with children that have identified needs. The SENCo attends regular relevant training sessions and cascades appropriate elements of this training the staff at school.

How will my child be included in activities outside the classroom including school trips?

The school ensures that all school trips are inclusive. Risk assessments are conducted to ensure all pupils are able to enjoy their learning off site in a safe and well managed environment.

How accessible is the school environment?

The school is wheelchair accessible throughout. There is disabled parking available in the school car park.

How are the school's resources allocated and matched to children's special educational needs?

Where a child has an EHCP, the school will use advice from outside agencies and specialists to ensure the appropriate resources are in place (as outlined in the child's plan).

Who can I contact for further information?

In the first instance, parents can contact their child's class teacher or the SENCo. The contact details for outside agencies are listed above.

What should I do if I feel that the School Offer is not being delivered or is not meeting my child's needs?

If a parent does not feel the school is delivering what the School Offer states, the parents need to contact the Headteacher in the first instance. If the parent is not satisfied with the outcome, they must then refer to the complaints policy available on the school's website.

How is your School Offer reviewed?

The School Offer will be reviewed annually with relevant staff and governors.
