

What a start to the Spring Term!

We have been so incredibly impressed with the resilience of the children and their calm approach to the crazy start of term we had last week...

On Monday, we returned to school with no heating in three of our classes and mobile heaters were brought in to try and help raise the temperature in the classrooms. The children took it all in their stride.

On Tuesday, the kitchen cookers decided to stop working and the children had to reorder their school lunch from a list of sandwich options and did so with no fuss or worry.

On Thursday, you will no doubt remember, we had to send the children home early to avoid being caught in storm Goretti—the children were calm and coped so well with this change to the school day. Thank you for your support with this.

On Friday, the children were met with another change with the school day starting at 11am to allow for safer and delayed travel. With many families having no electricity, we were concerned that the children would find the week too overwhelming but instead they wanted to tell us all about the board games they played with their families by candle light.

What a week! What an experience! What AMAZING resilience! Thank you all for your patience and understanding, but most of all, we are so glad you are all safe!

We understand that there are still some families without electricity. If this is affecting you and we can help in anyway, please do get in touch—even if it is to fill a flask with hot water—please do let us know.

Staff Update!

You may be aware that Miss Deakin has reduced her time in the office by finishing earlier on a Friday and Mrs Wallis has been covering this time. However, Mrs Wallis has now started a new training course which will be keeping her extremely busy on Fridays and as such we would like to introduce you to Mrs Hannah Edyvean who will be covering in the office on a Friday from 11.30am. Mrs Edyvean comes with over 15 years experience as a School Office Administrator and, although she will be new to our school community, we know she will be made to feel very welcome, so please do come and say hello!
